The document is a [REDACTED] copy of papers relating to the shipment of an automatic starter installation for a ship's emergency diesel power unit. The papers, [REDACTED] were compiled by VEM ENKO (Entwicklungs- und Konstruktions-Abteilung, Development and Construction Department, of the Federation of People-Owned Enterprises for Electrical Machine-Building), Berlin-Koepenick and were addressed to VVW Hochsee-Schiffbau, Schiffswerft Wismar VEB (People-Owned Wismar Shipyard, member of the Federation of People-Owned Shipyards for Ocean-Going Shipbuilding). The installation was built as a reparations order and was destined for the vessel "Primor'ye".

With the exception of one large schematic wiring diagram which is drawn up in Russian, the document is written in German. It contains the following items: cover sheet, table of contents, description of installation (15 pages), instructions for operation of the installation (6 pages), 10 photographs of various parts of the installation, list of diagrams [with the exception of the diagram mentioned above these diagrams are not enclosed], list of spare parts, and packing slip.
